

The New Wobblies!

Today's Industrial Workers of the World are different from the past. We are more refined. We are no longer enraged monsters with dirty finger nails (far be it from us to skip a meeting to engage in manual labor).

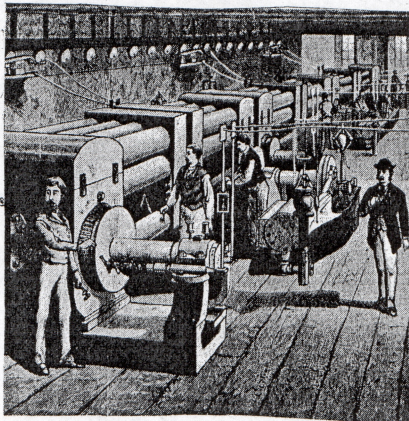

No more sabotage.

No more wildcat strikes.

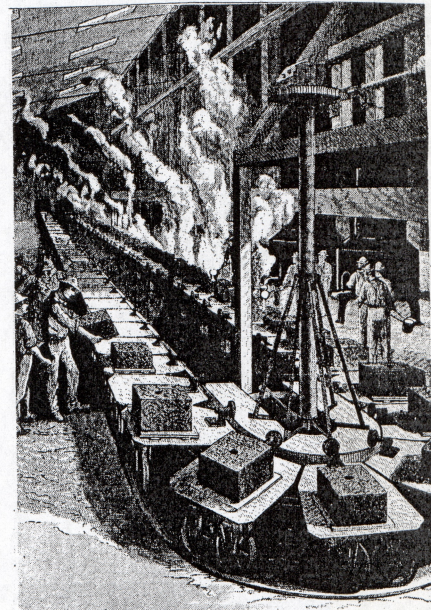

No more vandalism or silent agitators.

No more hateful rage against the workplace or capital. After all, we want to help administer capitalism!

But we do have a great social media presence!

And under no circumstances should you contact:
IWW: Rootless Cosmopolitan Local
PO Box 701
Cobleskill, NY 12043

These are evil people with visions of industrial collapse in their eyes, dreams of a world of masters-without-slaves in their hearts, and a feral rage against the workplace in their fists.
